PREFACE.

In the Coler family this is the first gleanings of the field for facts for a family history and genealogy. The gleaner commenced years ago and had several sheaves gleaned, which were put into my hands eighteen months ago, to finish the field.

The Coler family in America can be traced to one individual source—Henry Coler, who emigrated to the United States with his wife and two little girls in 1791. His descendants number now near five hundred families, which are all included in this genealogy except Isaac Sherer, who started west with his wife (Sarah Sonafrank) and died at Keokuk, Iowa, in 1860, leaving two children, a girl and a boy. These two children cannot be found, although much time and money has been spent in the search.

This book will be of intense interest to all who are embraced in the record and of inestimable value to their descendants in tracing family lineage. The facts which I have collected have, in many instances, come to me as grains of gold from mountains of sand, worked over with untiring scrutiny, because they are gold to the Coler family. Henry Coler's descendants are scattered from California to New York City, and from Minnesota to South Carolina. I have traveled over the most of this ground to gather facts and tradition for this book. By rail I have traveled five thousand one hundred and thirty-one miles; by buggy, two hundred and sixty-nine miles. I have written to date, one thousand and ninety-eight letters and three hundred and seventy-five postal cards. I have not spared myself, time or money, to make the Coler Book a repository of facts that will interest the members of the family.

I am indebted to too many members of the family for aid given me on my rounds to mention all of their names, but I am especially indebted to G. W. Coler, of Maysville, W. Va., for help about the old Coler homestead; and to Oscar Brock, the American Dept. Consul at Nuremberg, and to Col. W. N. Coler, who visited that city for the second time last summer, for the authenticated copy of the Coler coat of arms, the picture of Old Neuhoff and several valuable old pictures of the members of the Coler family.

In religion the majority of the family are Methodist; in politics, republican. The Cosner branch of the family number over twice as many as any other branch of the family. Among Henry Coler's descendants I have not found one criminal, cripple, deformed or feeble-minded person and no one in abject poverty. This sturdy and worthy ancestor has been honored by industrious and frugal descendants.

Should these facts tend to strengthen the family bond between the seven great branches by bringing them into nearer acquaintances and kinship, I will be partly compensated for my labors.

The work is submitted to the members of the family with these explanations and remarks in the hope that it will be acceptable; and as there are blank leaves in the back of the book for further genealogy and facts, I am wishing that at some distant day the book will be revised.

MRS. S. J. WILLIAMS.

Of the extinct family of Coler of Neunhof, called Forstmeister (Forester).

This in the year 1688 totally extinct old councilor eligible and noble family was possessed in these olden times of considerable landed property in the vicinity of Nuremberg, and under the Holy Roman Empire held the office of Forstmeister (Forester) over the woods of St. Sebaldt, from which office they received the additional name of Forstmeister (Forester), and in fact used only this name and discarded altogether the family name of Coler. As soon as the Honorable Magistrate of Nuremberg had acquired these woods the name of Forstmeister also ceased to apply to this Family, as will be seen in the following tables. This family of Coler must not be confounded with another equally noble family of Nuremberg, who spelled their name Koler or Koeler, and who had an entirely different origin.

BERTHOLD COLER, called Forstmeister (Forester), veritable progenitor of all the following men and women of this extinct noble house, died in 1257, May the 25th, and lies at Nuremberg, before the Altar of the Cross in the Cloister of the Barefoot monks. His spouse was Elss von Bruckberg.

ANONYMA, born 1667.

The name COLER first appears in history about the year A. D. 1230, when Berthold Coler held the office of Forstmeister over the woods of St. Sabaltd. A more ancient spelling of the name was Colerus, which indicates its Latin origin. Some members of the family retained the Latin form of spelling long after Berthold Coler's time. About 1600 other changes were made in the spelling and the name written Koler and Kohler, but never Koler or Koehler.

The Coler coat of arms, as shown in Wappen book in the archives of Nuremberg, published in —, is a shield and a ring; the face of the shield, when shown in colors, is red, and the ring white or silver. Sometimes, however, the face is white or silver and the ring black. The shield with ring is the essential part and all else appearing in the coat of arms is only ornamental. It is this coat of arms, the shield and ring, which prove beyond a controversy that all who adopted it were of the same family, no matter how the name was spelled. It will be seen in the picture of Georgius Colerus, a copy of an old engraving in my possession, that his father spelled his name Koler, as on the shield. He evidently adopted the more ancient name Colerus, and still below the "C" is used in Coleronne. Note that the ring is on the shield and that it is also held by the angels at the bottom of the picture. On the bronze plate placed on the tombstone of another eminent preacher buried in the Nuremberg is the Coler coat of arms and the name. The lines of coat of arms on the sides show the female line of descent of his father and mother.

The recognized history of the old families of Nuremberg is that published in 1748 by Biedermann; the title page of which reads: "The Genealogy of the Patriciate of Nuremberg. Consisting of the most trustworthy researches among the ancient documents, bills of purchase and feoffment, marriage contracts, and epitaphs of the lordly, baronial and noble families, and compiled in its present form by John Gottfried Biedermann."

In a chapter devoted to the Colers he says that "This council, eligible and noble family was possessed in these olden time of considerable landed property in the vicinity of Nuremberg, and under the Holy Roman Empire held the office of Forstmeister over the woods of St. Sebaldt. This family must not be confounded with another equally noble family of Nuremberg who spelled their name Koler or Kohler, and who had an entirely different origin.

Biedermann makes no other mention of the Koler or Koehler family who were not recognized as one of the patrician families, but proceeds to give the history of the descendants of Berthold Coler, tracing them down to 1688, when the last of the male line entitled to inherit died, and Neunhof, the homestead, was inherited by Helena Jakobina Coler, who brought the same into the family of Welser, the present owners, by her marriage with John Michael Welser.

The Coler family was one of the oldest and most prominent. They held the office of Forestmeister over two hundred years and many members of the family held high offices in church and state.

HENRY COLER AND MARGRETTA RUMORS, HIS WIFE.

HENRY COLER was a son of John Coler, a direct descendant of the Colers of Nuremberg, Bavaria, Germany.

Henry Coler, the son of John Coler, was born about the year 1750, and brought up in a small village near the City of Hanover, Germany, where his father resided and was engaged in agricultural pursuits. He early showed a fondness for literature and desired to become a doctor, but for pecuniary or other reasons his wishes were not gratified. His father kept him at work in the fields until old enough to learn a trade and then apprenticed him to a tailor. He finished his apprenticeship and remained under the parental roof until he became of age, then left and went to the City of Hamburg. A year or two later he made his way to Frankfort-on-the-Main, where he lived several years, and then returned to Hamburg.

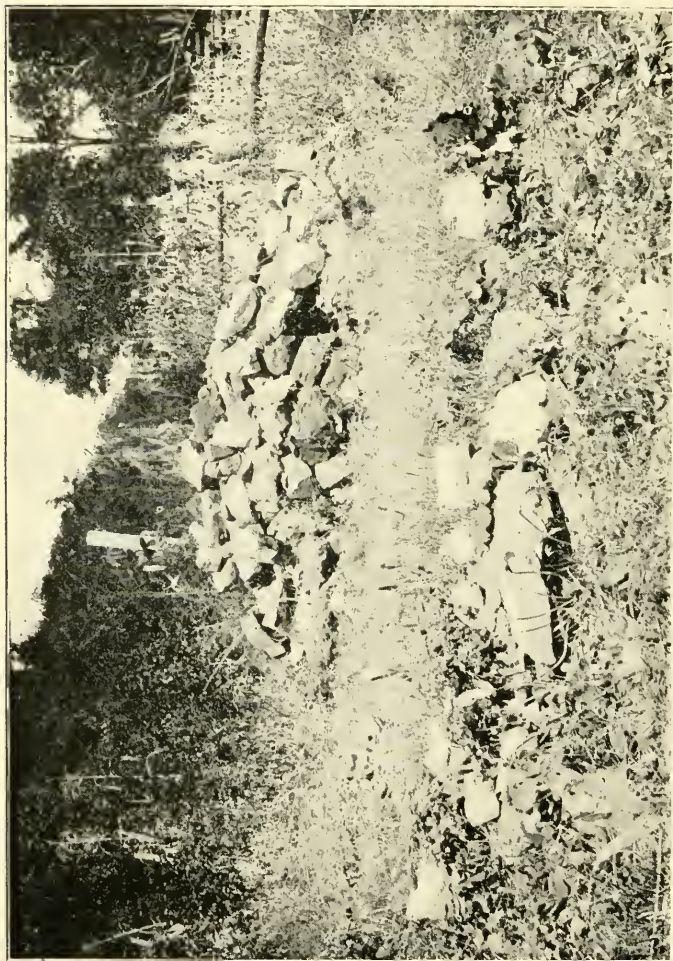

While in Frankfort and Hamburg, Henry Coler found more or less time for study and made such good use of his time that he had learned to read and write the English with considerable fluency before coming to America.

Henry Coler and Margretta Rumors were married in Germany, near Hamburg, where two children, girls, were born. Elizabeth, in 1779, and Dorothea on January 15, 1789. In the year 1791 they came to America with his wife's brother, Jacob Rumors, landing at Philadelphia, Penn., where three months after their landing, on September 19, 1791, their son John was born. Soon after this they emigrated to Virginia, settling in Hardy county, near Moorefield, in what is now called Old Fields, here five more children were born: George, David, Isaac and Margretta, twins; and Mary. Old Fields is where the north and south branch of the Potomac joins and makes the Potomac proper, and is the most fertile valley in the United States. When the two branches are on a rise there is so much water that it cannot get through the gap in the mountain where the Potomac flows. It backs up and overflows the valley called Old Fields, and leaves a rich deposit. Old well diggers say the soil is eight feet deep. Moorefield, the county seat of Hardy county, is situated in this valley, which is about five miles long and three miles wide. The town has now a population of about 2,000 inhabitants. It is an old-time Virginia town, with large brick stores and residences; clean, broad streets, grand old trees, under whose shade one can walk all over the town, and whose drives, going out into the Mountain pikes, are most beautiful; especially the drive along the south branch of the Potomac and through the Petersburg gap to Moorefield.

"Henry Coler," as an old grand dame said, "was the handiest man on the mountain in his time. He could set broken bones, care for the sick, write contracts, wills, etc. He lived in the witchcraft days and was called a witch doctor. Several circumstances were told me of him this summer when I visited that part of the state for data, pictures and tradition for the Coler book.

In going home one dark night he encountered a witch who jumped up behind him on his horse to bewitch him. He struck her with a heavy cane he carried and broke her shoulder. He went on home and told his wife, Margretta, that he would soon be sent for to set a bone. "How do you know?" she said. "Well, you will see," he answered. Soon there was a rap at the door and a lad said, "Mr. Coler, Granny fell down the ladder and broke her shoulder." He went and set the shoulder and as he was leaving her he whispered to her, "Don't you try to bewitch Henry Coler again."

OLD CHIMNEYS OF THE HENRY COLER HOMESTEAD, ON PATTERSON CREEK

On another occasion, himself and a neighbor had been sprouting stumps and worked as long as they could see. In going home they had to go over a bridge where a "White Witch" held forth. The neighbor wanted to walk several miles around to miss the witch, but Henry Coler said, "No, I have wanted to meet that witch." So they went over the bridge. The "White Witch" appeared and Henry Coler pulled the handle out of his grubbing hoe, which was loose, and threw the hoe at the "White Witch," knocking it down. He went to it and picked it up, and it proved to be an old man in the neighborhood, with a white sheet thrown over him.

These stories may show us what education had done for him in helping him to see how the ignorant were imposed upon in those days. He educated his children as best he could, teaching them at home and sending them away to "pay schools" some miles distant.

Henry Coler lived in Old Fields on the south branch of the Potomac, farming and making buckskin breeches and coats for his family and his neighbors until he bought the Patterson Creek mountain farm and moved there, which is only about four miles from where the old home was. Patterson Creek mountain is unlike the other mountains of that range in that it has a sloping valley on the side of the mountain where the house stood and on the top of the mountain a flat table land of about twenty acres. There is where the old orchard stood which Henry Coler planted, two trees of which are standing yet. (See picture of one of them elsewhere.) He lived in this home on the side of the mountain until his death, which occurred on the 11th day of February, 1820, three days after his will was written. In his weakened state he was not able to sign his name, hence his cross appears on his will. He was buried on his mountain farm, south of where the house used to stand, beside his twin daughter, Margretta. (Pictures of the graves will be seen elsewhere.)

Isaac Coler having gone to Ohio with the Cosners, now comes back to Virginia and after his father's land, goods and chattels were sold, took his mother and sister Mary, who was a young girl, back to Ohio where they kept house together near Mt. Vernon until his mother's death, which occurred on December 15, 1824. She is buried in Mt. Vernon on the lot where the First Presbyterian church now stands.

In religion, Henry Coler and his wife, Margretta, were Lutherans of the strictest kind, keeping all the fast days, ascension day and other days kept by good Lutherans.

WILL OF HENRY COLER.

Made the 8th day of February, 1820.

Probated the 14th day of March, 1820.

In the name of God, amen; I, Henry Coler, of Hardy county, State of Virginia, being weak in body but of sound memory, (beloved of God) do, this eighth day of February, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty, make and publish my last will and testament in the manner following, vixt, that is to say, first I give and bequeath my soul to God and my body to the earth, then, next my funeral expenses to be discharged and all my just and honest debts settled and paid. Then I bequeath unto my youngest son Isaac a yearling past colt and a rifle gun and my saddle. Then I give and bequeath unto my youngest daughter Mary, a cow that she claims as hers, a spinning wheel, and five peuter plates. Now after the above legacies are complied with then my real and personal estate and effects to be praised and sold by public sale as soon as convenient and then the money arising from P. Estate one third to be paid unto my loving wife Margretta and the other two thirds to be equally divided amongst my sons and daughters, vixt, to my sons John, David, George and Isaac and to my daughters Elisabeth, Dorotha and Mary, unto all them share and share alike; and then lastly I nominate and constitute and appoint my son David Coler and Jacob Rumor, Sr., my whole and sole executors of this my last will and testament to be executed according to law and whereunto I have set my hand and seal the day and date above written.

BIOGRAPHY OF THE SHERER BRANCH OF THE COLER FAMILY.

(Contributed.)

The Sherer branch of the Coler family was founded through the union in marriage of Mr. George Sherer and Miss Elizabeth Coler, in Hardy county, Virginia, about the year 1808, the exact place and date being unknown. However James, their first child, was born February 2, 1810. In this connection it may be said that George Sherer's father a few years prior, had left his Virginia home with the avowed purpose of planting a crop in the Ohio country and returning in the fall for his family. He was never heard of afterward, and it is supposed he fell a victim in one of the numerous Indian outbreaks prevalent of the times.

Undaunted by this family tragedy, George and Elizabeth Coler Sherer, with their three children, in 1817 left Virginia to carve out a new home in Ohio, where his father had probably found a grave, the journey being accomplished on horseback. Until within the last half dozen years, the writer had in his possession a quart brown jug which made the same journey upon the horn of Elizabeth Sherer's saddle, carrying milk to supply the babies from one stopping point to another.

It was not thin, watery blood that coursed through the veins of George and Elizabeth Sherer. It was the fearless, undaunted, pioneer blood of Henry Coler, the German founder of the American branch of the Coler family, who made the Virginia mountains his homestead, and that of the homeless Sherer who braved the dangers of Indian barbarities to establish a new home in the wilder "Ohio country" and that prompted George and Elizabeth to follow later on. They settled in Coshocton county, Ohio.

Lacking they doubtless were in the possession of a broad and liberal education, but this was hardly obtainable owing to the circumstances in which they lived. They were however strong and vigorous characters in their community as is evidenced in that their characteristics are indelibly stamped upon the minds of their associates after a lapse of more than fifty years. Grandpaps and grandmas are still to be found who relate incidents which show pleasing flash light pictures of their characters. One remembered having seen dame Elizabeth at a wool picking sixty years ago, at which she is described as the life and soul of the company and the centre of entertainment and mirth. One characteristic incident shows the tender manliness of George Sherer. Elizabeth Sherer died Dec. 20, 1848, and was buried in the little cemetery at Coshocton, Ohio. Their children had all felt the fire that burned in the blood of their ancestors—a desire to move on. Mary, James and Isaac had gone to Northwestern Ohio; Aaron as related elsewhere, had died on his way to the California gold fields and Sarah Sherer Casebeer and husband were preparing to move to Allen county, Ohio. They were the last of their race in the old homestead established by George and Elizabeth Sherer and Grandfather Sherer was to accompany them. Before leaving, however, he declared he never expected to visit the old home again and that before he went he must erect a humble monument to his beloved wife, Betty. He did so and it was from the inscription upon this stone the clue was obtained as to the whereabouts of the fifty-eight families of his descendants, after almost all hopes had been abandoned of finding them by the Coler historian. Grandfather George had builded better than he knew and in erecting her humble monument had also erected one more enduring to himself and his descendants in the Coler history.

His prediction was verified; he never returned; dying of typhoid fever at the home of his daughter, Sarah Casebeer, near Lima, Ohio.

BIOGRAPHY OF JAMES SHERER.

(Contributed.)

James, the eldest son of George and Elizabeth (Coler) Sherer, was born in Hardy county, Virginia, Feb. 2, 1810. In 1817 his parents moved to Coshocton county, Ohio, where James grew to manhood. On Feb. 13, 1834, he was united in marriage to Miss Rebecca Nelson, to whom were born Abram W., Anthony W., Lucinda Huldah, Louisa, Rebecah and Elizabeth.

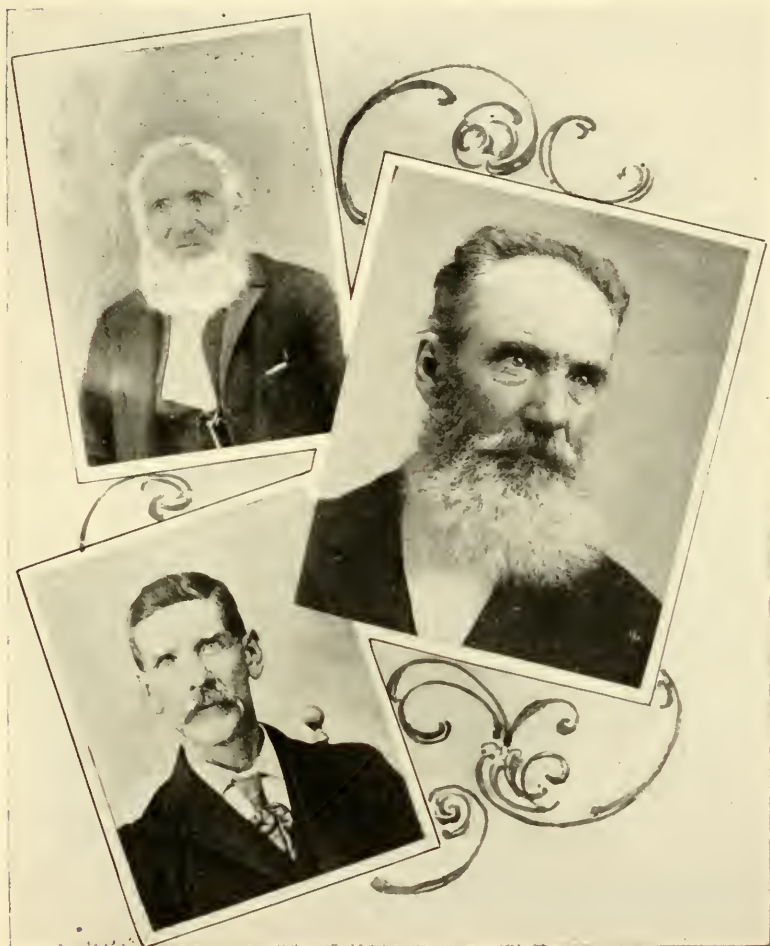

Mrs. Rebecca Sherer died Sept. 30, 1848, and Feb. 7, 1849, he was again united in marriage, to Mrs. Margaret (Stofford) Kennel. To this union was born Mary Jane and James W. The former born in Coshocton county, Ohio, Nov. 4, 1850 and the latter in Allen county, July 6, 1854. In 1850 James and family removed to Allen county, Ohio, and entered an 80 acre tract of land two miles west of what is now the village of Spencerville, Ohio. James Sherer fulfilled the part of a pioneer well and faithfully and had the satisfaction of seeing the members of his family grow up, if not to eminence, at least to humble usefulness. In 1875 his wife, Margaret, died after a short illness, and he departed this life 1895, at the home of his son Abram, near Spencerville, Ohio.

He was a man of strong will and unswerving integrity, shunning even the appearance of what he considered to be wrong. An illustration of this trait of character may be related: In the earlier years of his residence in Allen county, Ohio, the forests abounded with herds of hogs almost as wild and fierce as their neighbors the wolves.

Many of the early settlers had no scruples about killing unmarked hogs for food the same as other game; but James Sherer never even in days of actual want could bring himself to believe this to be right, and this was sufficient reason for him to let them pass unmolested.

ABRAM W. SHERER.

Abram W., eldest son of James and Rebeccah (Nelson) Sherer, was born in Coshocton county, Ohio, Jan. 13, 1835, and, with his parents, emigrated to Allen county, Ohio, where he grew up to manhood. enjoying such privileges as the county schools afforded.

September 20, 1864, he enlisted in Co. E, 180th Reg., Vol. Inf., and took part in several severe engagements in the closing year of the war; marched with Sherman through the Carolinas and was honorably discharged from the service at Columbus, Ohio, July 12, 1865. Returning home he purchased a part of the family homestead near Spencerville, Ohio, where he has resided ever since. Abram seems to be the only one in which the restless spirit of the pioneer never developed, and he has doubtless been the most contented and happy one of the family. Mrs. Eliza Sherer died April 4, 1891. Abram and two unmarried children reside upon the homestead.

ANTHONY W. SHERER.

Anthony W., second son of James and Elizabeth (Nelson) Sherer, was born in Coshocton county, Ohio, Oct. 2nd., 1837, and emigrated with his parents to Allen county, Ohio, in 18—, where he grew to manhood. Upon the breaking out of the war of the Rebellion, he was living in Coshocton county, Ohio. He became a member of Co. D, 16th O. Vol. Inf., April 24, 1861, and with his company took part in the engagement at Phillipi, Va. His term of enlistment having expired, he was honorably mustered out of the service at Zanesville, Ohio, Sept. 20, 1861.

February 13th, 1862, he was married to Miss Phebe Jane Rider of Spencerville, Ohio. The union proved to be a happy one, and the young couple made their home in Coshocton county, Ohio. Anthony there learned the cooper trade, mastering its details in a few weeks and was one of the fastest workmen of his day. His tireless energy brought success. The pioneer fever in the blood of the race broke out in Anthony's case, and he went to Kansas and afterward to Missouri, returning to Allen county, Ohio, near Haviland, Ohio.

His most noted characteristics are tireless energy, scrupulous honesty and warm hearted hospitality. He died of paralysis Dec. 22, 1899.

BIOGRAPHY OF AARON SHERER.

(Contributed.)

Aaron, the youngest son of George and Elizabeth (Coler) Sherer, was born in Coshocton county, Ohio, Aug. 12, 1825.

He seems to have inherited the restless adventurous characteristics of his ancestors in a heightened degree, and coming into manhood about the time of the Mexican War, he and a neighbor's son, Frank Miller, decided to become soldier boys in the land of the Montezumas. The abrupt closing of the Mexican War, however, frustrated their designs; but the succeeding rush to the gold fields of California furnished an opportunity for adventurous enterprise, of which Aaron and young Miller gladly availed themselves, and with high hopes started for the new Eldorado.

His going was a grievous trial to his mother, Elizabeth, as he was her favorite son, and to her loving heart the long and arduous journey was full of seen and unseen perils. No word ever came back from the wanderer and the uncertainty as to his fate saddened the closing years of her life. It was finally learned, that he sickened and died at Monument Rock, on the "Old California Trail," in Echo Canyon, Utah, one thousand miles west of Omaha. His comrades, it is said, carved his name upon Monument Rock and hastened on to the land of gold.

Truly no king of earth ever had a more magnificent resting place than the humble farmer's lad in that far away land. Echo Canyon, whose rocky walls tower hundreds of feet upward, is traversed by Weber River, whose water, clear as the sunlight overhead, washes its rocky floor. Monument Rock stands near where Echo Canyon opens out upon the plains, and is one of the grandest of Nature's masterpieces—a burial place fit for the gods. It is a strong coincident that the Coler historian visited Monument Rock three years ago, but knew nothing of the facts here recorded.

JOHN AND SARAH (SHERER) CASEBEER.

JAMES W. SHERER.

Born July 6, 1834, near Spencerville, Allen county, Ohio.

By virtue of parental sacrifices he was enabled to attend country school regularly in youth, and at the age of 19 passed a successful examination for a teacher's certificate. Not willing to embark in a calling without thorough preparation, he spent two years in the Lebanon, Ohio, Normal, after which he taught school four years. He married Miss Lillie Jannette Staley, October 21, 1880, and three children were born unto them. In 1881 he accepted a position with N. Mores & Bros., ship timber and railroad lumber dealers, Cleveland, Ohio. He remained with this firm eight years, during which time he accepted the position of traveling purchasing agent, one requiring sound judgment, strict integrity, and ceaseless energy.

In 1892 he embarked in the newspaper business, becoming editor of the Payne "Press, Review," which he ran successfully, but sold his interest therein the next year and retired to his farm. On Sept. 15, Mrs. Sherer died. The following year he married Mrs. Ida S. Genther. One child has been born of this union. He is now engaged in the general merchandise business.

James W. Sherer is a man of fine equipment. Possessed of culture, energy, and business experience, he does not hesitate to take hold of any enterprise which presents itself, and has never yet fallen short of success.

JOHN AND SARAH (SHERER) CASEBEER.

Sarah Sherer, the youngest daughter of George Sherer and Elizabeth Coler, was born in Coshocton county, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1819, where she grew to womanhood and on June 5, 1837, was married to John Casebeer who was a farmer in the same county and who was the husband of Margaret Sherer, Sarah's older sister, who had died several years before. In 1846 they moved to Allen county, Ohio, where George Sherer, Sarah's father, who had moved with them, died in 1851.

In 1854 they moved to Iowa, Dallas county, where they lived until 1890, when they moved to Elk county, Kansas, where they remained until the strip was opened in the Indian Territory, where two of their children have claims. They moved there to be near them in their old days.

John Casebeer is 87 years old; Sarah, his wife, is 79 years old. They have been two persons of more than ordinary strength of character; they have been honest, faithful Christian people. All their long lives they have walked near the foot of the cross. Now as the shadows lengthen for them and the setting sun is near, they are only awaiting the summons to "come up higher."

MARGARET ELLEN WINKLER.

Margaret Ellen Casebeer, daughter of John and Sarah Casebeer, was born in Allen county, Ohio, Oct. 26, 1840. On Nov. 14, 1865, she was married to Joseph Winkler, a farmer of Dallas county, Iowa. She was the mother of four children—three daughters and one son. Two daughters and a son were born in Dallas county, Iowa, near Woodward. In 1878 she moved with her husband to Coles county, Ill., where the last daughter was born and where the husband died April 17, 1885. She then removed to the home of her parents in Lyon county, Kansas, where she remained one year, then removing to Elk county, Kansas. She now resides with her son and two youngest daughters on a farm six miles south of Perry, Oklahoma.

BIOGRAPHY JOHN WESLEY BAKER.

John Wesley Baker, was born near London, Madison county, Ohio. His mother was Louise Sherer, who died when he was four years old, he being her only child. He lives near Lima, Ohio, and is the only Spanish-American soldier the family has. He enlisted June 18, 1898, Co. C, 2nd. Div. 1st Army Corps, O. V. I., and was discharged Feb. 10, 1899.

children. Their son William was born six weeks after they landed. The next spring they moved to Knox County, Ohio, where two more children—Isaac and George—were born.

Phillip Cosner entered land in Clinton and Miller townships, Knox County, and was a considerable land owner; inspired by an innate energy and faith in the future, he did much to advance the interest of the wilderness state he had come to make his home and that of his children. He divided his land out among his children as they married and settled them around him, where the most of them remained until their death.

He died July 8, 1854, of the cholera.

HENRY COSNER.

Rev. Henry Cosner was a student of Granville, College, Ohio, where he prepared himself for ministerial work. He was ordained as a Baptist minister and preached in Ohio with success until 1847, when he moved to Whiteside County, Ill., with his family of wife and five children, locating at Lyndon, where he organized the first Baptist church of the county. There his sixth child was born. On account of excessive work and exposure he contracted throat trouble, which finally resulted in his death at Thompson, Carroll County, Ill., at his home in 1852 he passed away, leaving a wife and six children. He is buried in the cemetery connected with the York Baptist church, where his wife is also buried, who died in 1896.

ADAM COSNER.

The subject of this sketch was born Dec. 12, 1820, at Virginia, Hardy County, in the state of Virginia. He was the last child of the family born in the Old Dominion. At an early age his parents moved to Knox County, Ohio. April 15, 1840, he married Miss Ann B. Dunn, of the same county, whose father

MARY M. COSNER INGHAM.

(Contributed.)

Mary M. Cosner Ingham, second daughter of Rev. Henry Cosner, was born in Ohio and grew to womanhood on her father's farm near Thompson, Carroll County, Ill. In her youthful days she attended the country district school at Bluffville P. O. At 17 years of age she became a student at Mount Carroll Seminary, now F. A. W. Shriner Academy. At 20 years of age she became the wife of Rev. J. E. Ingham, who had just returned from the Civil War in 1865. She accompanied her husband to Shurtleff College at Upper Alton, Ill. After her husband's graduation, the family moved to Nebraska, in 1871, three children having then been born to them—two daughters and a son. Two sons and three daughters were born to them on the homestead near Exeter, Neb.

Mrs. Ingham continued a close student and finally studied medicine and graduated in the same. Her practice, however, proved to be of short duration, as she was soon taken ill, the illness terminating in death at the close of the year 1895, at Lincoln, Neb. She lies buried in the Exeter cemetery.

EVA INGHAM FULMER.

Eva Ingham Fulmer, oldest child of Mary Cosner Ingham, was born at Upper Alton, Ill. She was 5 years old when the family moved to Nebraska. In her childhood and youthful days she made rapid advancements in her studies, and taught a term in a district school before the completion of her 15th year. She afterwards had the educational advantages of the Baptist seminary at Gibbon, Neb. At 18 she became a teacher in the public schools of Gibbon, where she spent two years, when she was married to Clark A. Fulmer. Since then she has filled the place of wife and mother. Three children—a boy and two girls—belong to their home. Her husband has been principal and superintendent of schools in Nebraska since their marriage, first at Gibbon, afterwards at Edgar and now at Pawnee City, Neb. All these years she has continued to be interested in educational work and has been of great assistance to Mr. Fulmer.

ALICE INGHAM.

Alice Ingham is the fourth daughter of Mary Cosner Ingham. Miss Alice was born on the homestead near Exeter, Neb., in 1877. Her educational advantages were the public schools of Gibbon, Neb., where she graduated in her 16th year. She afterwards had instruction in the State University of Nebraska at Lincoln. She taught one term in Nebraska in her 19th year, when she moved with the family to Whiting, Ind., where she taught in the public schools for three years with success. She is now teaching the primary department in the schools at Dalton, Ill., a suburban town of Chicago.

WILLIAM E. INGHAM.

William E. Ingham was the second son of Mary Cosner Ingham. He was born on the homestead near Exeter, Neb., in 1874. He was in his 7th year when the family moved to Gibbon, Neb. He was educated in the public schools of the place. He was soon after typo on the paper published in the village of Gibbon and after a year became the manager. He went with the family to Lincoln in September, 1892, and matriculated in the State University, remaining part of two years, when he went to Whiting, Ind., and was in the office of the Democrat for a year, when he bought the East Chicago Gazette. In January, 1897, he entered into partnership with a new paper at Whiting, Ind., called the Whiting Sun. One year thereafter he became sole proprietor. In May, 1898, he had an attack of pneumonia which proved fatal July 15. His remains were taken to Exeter, Neb.

CECIL AND CECILIA INGHAM.

Cecil and Cecilia Ingham, youngest son and daughter of Mary Cosner Ingham, were born in 1880 on the homestead at Exeter, Neb. They were in their 13th year when the family moved to Lincoln, Neb. Cecil finished the eighth grade in the public schools of Lincoln; Cecilia giving her attention to vocal music. When they moved to Whiting, Ind., Cecil entered the printing office of his brother, where he continued until his brother, W. E. Ingham's, death, when he took full charge of the Whiting Sun, which he has edited with success to the present writing. Miss Cecilia has given much attention to music, in which she is quite proficient, having for a time been enrolled as a student in the Chicago Musical College and studied under Gottschalk.

JOSEPH JOHNSON.

Joseph Johnson was born in Knox County, Ohio, Aug. 30, 1811. His parents were John Johnson and Rebecca Baker.

Joseph's childhood was spent with his parents, where he became familiar with the trials and labor connected with the settlement of a new country. His education he received in the district school, he having to walk three miles. He possessed the stable qualities of Scotch and Irish stocks and was a very bright boy intellectually and was very fond of reading. But circumstances forbade him any advantages when a child. What books he could obtain were read thoroughly then, and in after years he as eagerly read many books which his giant memory retained in full to the day of his death.

November 8, 1834, he married Mary Cosner, daughter of Phillip Cosner and Dorothea Coler, and lived in Morris Township, Knox County, Ohio, for three years, when they moved to Miller Township, Knox County, and purchased a farm of virgin timber land. Here amid the forest wildness he reared a home, adding more land. He started out in life with an iron determination to do his duty promptly when he saw it. Backed by industry and great energy he succeeded where many would have failed. He was a man of strong individuality, strong convictions, an honorable citizen and a good neighbor; was a member of the Christian Church, and died in the faith Dec. 30, 1892.

DR. MARTIN V. JOHNSON.

Martin V. Johnson was born in Knox County, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1839. He was raised on a farm and received his early education in the district school. In 1860 he went to Mount Vernon, Ohio, to study dentistry with Dr. McBriar and was engaged for some time in study and preparation, and then entered the Dental College at Cincinnati.

In the spring of 1865 he returned to Mount Vernon. He practiced in Ohio until 1868, when he moved to Holden, Mo., where he resumed his profession and has been actively engaged ever since and enjoys a lucrative practice.

In 1866 he entered Dr. Garret Coler's Sanitarium at Marietta, Ohio, for the study of the cancer cure, for which Dr. Coler was famous, and has practiced the cancer cure along with his dental practice with success.

In 1868 he married Malinda Bricker, of Knox County, Ohio, a woman possessing those sterling qualities which enabled her to direct her household wisely and well.

ANN V. JOHNSON.

Ann V. Johnson, daughter of Joseph Johnson and Mary Cosner, was born Aug. 18, 1851, in Knox County, Ohio. She attended the public school until she was 16 years old and then attended the Mount Vernon High School, later she attended a normal school at Homer, Ohio. She taught school in the district schools near her home for three years.

In 1889 she entered the Mount Vernon Sanitarium as a pupil in the training school for nurses. In October, 1891, she was graduated as a trained nurse. She followed the occupation as a private nurse two years in Columbus, Ohio, and then accepted a position in the Childrens' hospital in that city. Three years were passed in that institution, when she again returned to private nursing in Columbus, Ohio, where she is at present pursuing her profession. She with several nurses and doctors were sent to Chickamauga to bring the sick soldiers of Battery H home, soldiers in the Spanish-American war. The Columbus (Ohio) Journal says of her on this occasion: "Among the nurses sent was Miss Anna V. Johnson, who bears the reputation of being one of the best trained nurses in the state. She is a Christian lady and is giving her life for the sake of humanity."

MISS A. V. JOHNSON

DR. JOHN W. BUXTON.

Dr. John W. Buxton was born in Miller Township, Knox County, Ohio, March 4, 1859. He acquired his general education in the district school, which he attended until about 16 years old, when he then entered the Utica Normal school for seven terms. He now began the study of medicine, under the tutorship of Drs. Russell & McMillan, at Mount Vernon, Ohio, where he remained for two years. For the two succeeding years he was a student of the Starling Medical College of Columbus, Ohio, where he graduated Feb. 28, 1883, the last year being in the office of Dr. Loving, dean of that college. He has practiced his profession in Homer, Ohio, since he graduated. In August, 1893, he was appointed county examiner on the Licking County board of pensions. As a physician he stands deservedly in the front ranks of his profession. In his family he is tender hearted and true.

BURT M. HALL.

(Contributed.)

Burt M. Hall was born near Homer, Ohio, on Dec. 31, 1877, and passed the earlier part of his life on a farm, obtaining such knowledge as nature and the country school afforded. On April 11, 1885, his mother died and his home lost its sustaining influence and with two of his sisters he went to live with his grandparents, David and Dorothea Neible, who lived on a farm near Brandon, Ohio. While there he was unable to attend school regular, but he had the example of true Christian and noble efforts of his grandmother, who inspired his to the best that was in him. His father marrying again in 1888, he and his sisters were taken to his home in Vitica, Ohio, where he attended the public school and graduated June 13, 1897. The following school year he was employed as superintendent of the public schools of Norman, Ohio, which he has held for three years. Realizing that intellect well developed is the ruling power of the world, he has determined, after this year's school closes, to take a classical course in some university.

DR. JOHN W. BUXTON AND FAMILY.

MARY COSNER.

Mary Cosner, daughter of Phillip Cosner and Dorothea Coler, was born in Hardy County, Va., Nov. 20, 1813. At the age of 10 years she with her parents emigrated to Coshocton County, Ohio, in the fall of 1822, where they remained until the next spring, when they removed to Knox County, Ohio. The country being new, her advantages for an education were meagre. On Nov. 8, 1834, she was married to Joseph Johnson, of Morris Township, Knox County, Ohio, where they lived three years, then removed to Miller Township, Knox County, where her husband had bought a farm, all timber, which must be cleared to establish their home. Her ambition and industry stood by her in this new country among strangers, and it was her helpfulness and courage that helped to make a home which she was proud of in after years.

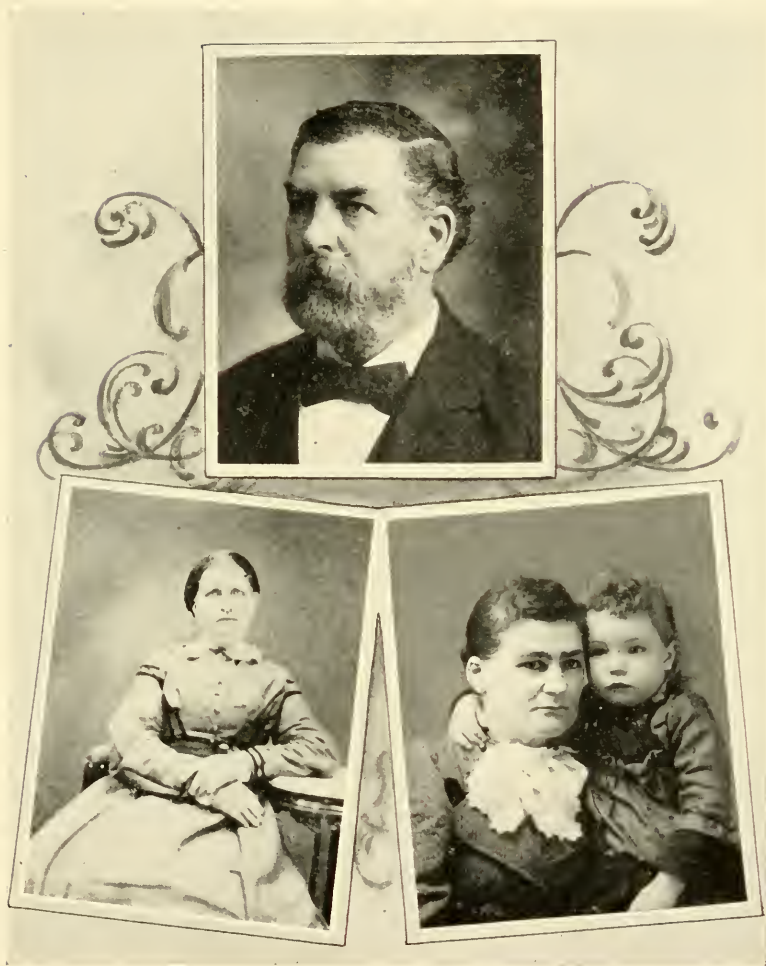

She was a woman of rare Christian worth. Truly can it be said of her, "she hath done what she could." Her life was eminently successful and worthy of imitation. A legacy of personal character, and of children trained up to a standard of practical righteousness, is the richest and most enduring one a woman can confer upon her children.

ELIZABETH COSNER JACKSON.

(Contributed.)

Elizabeth Cosner, daughter of Phillip and Dorothea Cosner, was born in Old Fields, Hardy County, W. Va., Oct. 24, 1818, and came with her father and mother to Knox County the following year, where she was raised on a farm. She was married to James Jackson, who was a native of Pennsylvania, Aug. 18, 1836. They lived near Mount Vernon until 1854, when they moved to Ottawa County, Ohio, near Genoa, where they bought a farm and lived there until their death. Nineteen children were born of this union, seven of them dying in infancy.

Elizabeth Jackson was a good woman; her's was a character richly endowed with the attributes pertaining to a successful mother, wife and friend.

MRS. ELIZABETH COSNER JACKSON. MISS FRANKIE B. JACKSON AND HER NIECE, ADA BELL FOUGHT.

FRANKIE B. JACKSON.

Frankie B. Jackson was born Aug. 18, 1853, near Mount Vernon, Ohio. Her parents were Elizabeth Cosner and James Jackson. When she was quite small her parents moved to Ottawa County, Ohio, and bought a farm near Genoa, where she was raised. Her early education she received in the district school and later she had two years work in the Genoa High school. She has been a successful teacher in the public schools of her county for twenty years, and in 1895 graduated from the Normal Correspondence School of Danville, N. Y. Her library is stored with good books, and she keeps apace with the best magazines and newspaper literature. At her mother's death she bought the heirs out, and owns the family homestead, which she has improved and beautified until it is one of the handsomest homes in Ottawa County.

ADA BELL FOUGHT.

Ada Bell Fought is a great niece of Frankie B. Jackson. She was born in Port Clinton, Ohio, and is 8 years old.

PHILLIP COSNER JACKSON.

Phillip Cosner Jackson, son of James Jackson and Elizabeth Cosner, was born in Knox County, Ohio, April 9, 1837. He was the oldest of nineteen children. In 1853 the family moved to Ottawa County in the same state.

In 1862 he took up arms for the Union in the War of the Rebellion, enlisting in the Twenty-first Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He served two years and ten months, and was then discharged on account of disability. He has been partially crippled ever since.

In 1894 he was appointed guard in the Ohio penitentiary, which position he still holds and where he now resides.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF SARAH J. WILLIAMS.

(Contributed.)

The subject of this sketch was born in Knox County, Ohio, June 3, 1845. Her father, Joseph Johnson, was a leading farmer of Miller Township, in that county. He was a man of strong character and possessed intellectual attainments of a much higher order than the majority of the farmers of that day.

Her mother was the daughter of Dorothea Coler and Phillip Cosner and was possessed of a deeply religious nature, who was always ready to bear the burdens of others, share their sorrows.

She was married Jan. 1, 1868, to Henry Martin Williams, who was born Aug. 7, 1840, in the same county and who is a lawyer by profession. They removed to Missouri in October, 1869, settling at Holden, Johnson County, in which county she has resided almost continuously ever since. She became a resident of Warrensburg in 1877 and in 1882 was appointed matron of the Southwest Missouri Normal School at that place, which place she held until 1886, when she was appointed librarian and reference teacher, resigning in 1897. During her connection with the Normal School she made friends and acquaintances co-extensive with the state and in almost every county in Missouri may be found young men and women in whose esteem and affectionate regard she holds a place second only to their parents.

Mrs. Williams is devoted to art, and has spent much of the last few years in the study and practice of painting. She has also contributed frequently to art journals upon various phases.

Eighteen months ago she assumed the task of finishing the Coler history and genealogy.

JOHN COLER.

John Coler, son of Henry Coler and Margretta Rumor, was born in the city of Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 19, 1791, three months after the landing of his parents from Germany. Soon after this his parents moved to Old Field, Hardy County, Va., near

JOHN COLER.

Moorefield, the county seat, where John was raised. He was married to Rebecca Vanfleet, May 18, 1812. They lived in Virginia until the year of 1818, when they moved to Washington County, Ohio, and settled on Wolf Creek, in Wesley Township, where they raised ten children—four girls and six boys. John Coler was an upright, honest man, a man of strength of character and purpose. He died August 3, 1870, and is buried on his homestead farm.

GARRET COLER.

Garret Coler, John Coler's eldest son, was born in Virginia, June 14, 1815, making him about seven years old when his father went West and located on the Wilderness farm in the state of Ohio.

Garret Coler grew to manhood on this farm. He was a self-made man in every respect, as his limited education was attained through his own efforts. At the age of 20 years he married Hannah Rasdin, and for a few years engaged in farming.

Subsequently he became a minister of the gospel and preached for many years in different places in Ohio and Virginia.

He ceased active work in the ministry about 1865. He studied medicine. In the year 1877 he located in Marietta, Ohio, and made a specialty of the treatment of cancer, in which he was very successful, as many persons who were cured by him and are still living in Ohio, Virginia, and surrounding states will testify, but preaching when opportunity offered.

He was a man of undaunted courage and perseverance, of broad charity, kindness, and sweetness of heart, always glad to help the needy. In his family he was a loving husband and father.

He died in Marietta, Ohio, Aug. 26, 1896, in his 84th year.

Hannah Coler, his wife, died May 9, 1898, in her 88th year, and was buried in Henrietta, Ohio.

GEORGE COLER.

GEORGE COLER.

CONTRIBUTED BY G. P. C.

George Coler, son of Henry Coler, was born in Hardy County, West Virginia, on the 28th day of December, 1795. His father died in 1820, and in 1822, George Coler was married to Catherine Hesler. He and his wife lived for awhile on the Henry Coler farm, in Hardy County, West Virginia, where George Coler was born. While yet a young man he moved to Ohio and bought a farm near Ringgold, in Morgan County. He lived many years on this farm. It was here that I used to go with much pleasure when I was a boy seven or eight years of age. I remember my grandfather as a quiet and gentle old man, who was fond of children. He was very active and industrious, and always kept his farm in good shape. My grandmother died when I was very young, and in 1861, grandfather was married to Mary Jane King. Soon after he sold his farm and moved to Athens County, Ohio, where he bought another farm near Coolville. He lived here until his death——.

By his first marriage he had four children: John, Susan, Rebecca, and Henry. John and Rebecca are dead. Susan, the wife of William Bingham, is still living in Athens County, Ohio. Henry, the youngest son, now lives in Nodaway County, Missouri.

By his second marriage, he had two sons, Samuel and ——-. They now live in Marion, Ohio.

I LIKE TO FORGET.

BY C. S. COLER.

Down by the brook where the wild roses grow
And the corn stands tall at the end of the row,
Where the shade is dark from the leaves overhead
And the berries hang thick in purple and red,
There, away from the world and free from regret,
I like to forget.

The grasses are long and soft where I lie,
The clouds drift aloft in the depths of the sky,
The katydid sings in the vines o'er the way,
While all nature joins in pride of the day,
There, heedless of weather, the sun rise or set,
I like to forget.

The mistakes that I made in years that are past,
The joys that came on, but too fervent at last,
The sorrows that swept like a blight o'er the heart
And caused the hot tears from the eyelids to start,
Ingratitude's sting and cares that beset,
I like to forget.

I like to forget the words that made sore
And think of all men as brothers once more;
I just like to open my soul to the tide
And let waves of oblivion rush in and abide,
With forgiveness and love having paid every debt,
I like to forget.

GEORGE PERRY COLER.

George Perry Coler was born near Ringgold, Morgan County, Ohio, Feb. 4, 1853. His father died when he was eight years old. As his mother was an invalid and could not keep the children together, they went to live among strangers until he was fourteen years old, when she began housekeeping again and called the children home. His education was gained in country schools until he was seventeen, when he attended village school in Malta, Ohio, about four months. He then began to teach which he continued to do until he was twenty-three years of age, paying his board away from home and keeping up all expenses for his mother's other children at home. In September, 1876, he entered the preparatory department of the Ohio

PROF. C. S. COLER.

When a boy is left at the age of three years without home, father or fortune, he is likely to learn some things of the ways of the world before he gets very far along.

Prof. Coler was born on a farm in Morgan County, Ohio, in 1858. After his father's death he went to live with his grandfather, Lewellyn, and at the age of nine years he started out to make his own way in the world and that is what he has been doing ever since.

In 1872 he divided what money he had saved up to that date equally between two doctors. By working on a farm at from $8 to $15 per month he saved enough to pay his way through a high school course of study, and at the age of seventeen he began teaching.

In 1877 he entered the Ohio University where he coached, tutored, and taught penmanship to pay his way and in 1883 graduated with second honors of his class. The same year he received a life certificate of the highest grade from the Ohio State Board of Examiners. He then went to Columbus, Ohio, as assistant teacher to Prof. Edwin Orton, of the Ohio State University and while there took a post graduate course in physics under Dr. T. C. Mendenhall. After this he went to John Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, and took a course in physiology and pedagogy under Dr. G. Stanley Hall. He then spent four years in the West as agent of W. N. Coler & Co., bonds and investments, New York. He then returned to Ohio and resumed his chosen work of teaching, being for six years principal of the Sandusky High School.

Prof. Coler is an able and effective speaker and is very popular as an institute instructor, in which capacity he has been employed in many of the counties of Ohio. At present he is Superintendent of Public Instruction and Graded Schools, in Concord, North Carolina.

IDA C. COLER.

Ida C. Coler was born near Athens, Ohio, Nov. 10, 1856. She attended country schools till she was about ten years of age when her parents moved to Athens, Ohio, where she entered the public schools. For two years she was a student in the Ohio University. She taught school in Athens County, Ohio, for one term. On July 13, 1882, she was married to George P. Coler. When they moved to Baltimore, Maryland, she entered the Woman's Medical College of that city and completed a three years' course, graduating in 1888. For a year she practiced medicine in Baltimore. She then spent two years in Europe with her husband, and studied medicine one semester in the University of Zunda, Switzerland. She also attended medical lectures in Paris. Since coming to Ann Arbor she has attended medical lectures in the University of Michigan, where she graduated in June, 1899.

She was married Dec. 28, 1845, to William Bingman, who was born in Belmont County, Ohio, March 31, 1831.

They began their married life on a farm, near Elliot's Cross Roads, Morgan County, Ohio, and remained at that place until 1856, when they moved to Athens County, Ohio, and again located on a farm, near Coolville, Ohio.

Farming was their main occupation, of which they made a success, but in later years they engaged in mercantile business, and at his death they owned a store at Fillmore, Ohio.

Since Mr. Bingman's death, which occurred Dec. 4, 1882, Mrs. Bingman has resided with one of her sons on the homestead farm. She is a member of the Congregational church.

DAVID COLER.

(Contributed.)

David Coler, the fifth child of Henry Coler and Margretta Rumurs, was born January 22, 1789, at Old Fields, W. Va., where he was raised, there and at the Patterson Creek Mountain farm, five miles distant. In 1819 he married Miss Sarah Hughes, who was born and raised near the same place.

Ten children were born to this union—five boys and five girls. They lived near Mayville, then Hardy County, now Grant County, Virginia, until all their children were married except Julia Ann, their youngest daughter.

David Coler had, all his married life, wanted to move to Ohio, but his wife, Sarah, would never consent until in 1854 her favorite son John was married and moved to Ohio. She could not bear to be separated from him so she consented to come too. They settled in Ross County, twelve miles from Chillicothe, where their son David had gone before them.

He was a man of strength of character and of more than ordinary intelligence for one that lived in the time he did. He was always opposed to slavery and of course was not liked by the slave holders of Virginia. He was called "Marsa Coler" because of the respect the colored people paid him. They could not help but admire his courage and firmness. At different times they offered to give him a start with a "pair," but he would never consent. He spent his life on the farm clearing up the heavily timbered land and making for himself and family a home. He died March, 15, 1857, on his farm near Alma, Ross County, Ohio.

David Coler, son of David and Sarah Coler, was born in Hardy County, West Virginia, June 28, 1833. In 1865 he volunteered to go into the Union army in Company D, One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served until the end of the war, being honorably discharged. He married Matilda C. Kerna Oct. 18, 1855, of the same neighborhood where he was born and raised. To them were born three children, the youngest (a boy) died in infancy, nine days old; the other two, a boy and girl, are living in the vicinity of Alma, Ross County, Ohio.

He never received the advantage of an education, never having attended school but seventeen days. After the war he engaged in farming until 1881, when he engaged in the mercantile business at Alma, which he continued until succeeded by his son, Francis M., in 1884, when he retired from active labor.

He never held any public offices except that of school director of his district and once being elected as constable of the township, but he resigned it shortly after being elected. He was appointed postmaster at Alma, Ross County, Ohio, in 1882, and served for eleven years, being succeeded by his son, Francis M.

He never belonged to any secret orders but was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years since its organization in the community where he lived.

During the many years since he saw service in the army he suffered from the chronic diarrhea and resultant neuralgia, which caused his death Sept. 21, 1899.

His wife and two children survive him and live in the neighborhood of where he died.

known as "Pleasant Valley," now Alma Postoffice. He was brought up on a farm until 19 years of age, when he engaged with his father in the mercantile business at Alma, Ohio. And in 1884, when his father retired from active work, he became the sole owner and has since conducted the business by himself. He was appointed the postmaster there after his father had resigned the same and has since held said office. The other public offices he has held was that of director of schools and assessor of the real property of the township in 1890.

What education he has was received in the public schools at Alma except one term of a business course at Lebanon, Ohio.

GEORGE WASHINGTON COLER.

George Washington Coler was born in Hardy County, Virginia, now Grant County, near Maysville, Oct. 18, 1824. His parents were David Coler and Sarah Hughes. When his father moved to Ohio in 1852 he bought the homestead and lived on it for many [his sons own the place now] years when he sold it and bought a farm near by. He is the only landmark left of the Coler family, to stay near where the camp fires were first lighted. Himself and family are the only Coler blood in Hardy and Grant Counties, Virginia, and to him more than any other one person is due the fact that the Coler historian is able to tell where the Henry Coler children were born and raised and where Henry Coler and Margaretta, his daughter, were buried and for the pictures of the Patterson Creek Mountain Home and for kindnesses and favors shown to the Coler historian while she sojourned in his home on the hunt of data and tradition. George Washington Coler, or "Wash" Coler, as he is familiarly called, is 75 years old, a remarkably well preserved man for his age, with a mind as clear as it was at 40, sound in his judgment, social in his nature, strong in his affections, a man of much force and of more than ordinary capacity, which characteristics have been inherited by his children, who still live with him in his home, with exception of his son Baxter, who is married and lives some distance from home. His sons are farmers of the sturdy, industrious type; his daughters are "Marthas," anxious about many things concerning their neat, well-kept home, a legacy handed down to them by their industrious, gentle mother, who died in 1895 and left them to fill her place and make a home for the family, which they have done in every sense of the word home.

ELSIE MAY COLER.

Elsie May Coler is the daughter of John Elmer Coler and Martha Martin, born at Bloomingdale, Wis., moved with her father to Relief, Ohio, in 1880, was educated at Beverly, Ohio, and later studied telegraphy and held a position as operator at Relief, Ohio, in 1893, and rested for several years and now has a position as operator again. She has been one of the helpful ones in collecting data for the Coler book; she was a pioneer in the work when it first started.

ISAAC COLER.

Isaac Coler, the youngest son of Henry Coler, was brought up on his father's farm and lived under the parental roof until his father's death. About two years thereafter he moved to Knox County, Ohio, with his mother and sister Mary. Here they kept house together until the death of his mother, which occurred some two years later. In the meantime he made the acquaintance of Amos Nichols, of Licking County (whose sister Amelia afterwards became his first wife), and the two formed a co-partnership in the business of building dams and erecting grist and saw mills in Knox and the adjoining counties. In 1828 he bought a tract of wild heavily timbered land lying in Miller Township, six miles south of Mount Vernon. Four years later he built a log cabin on this tract of land, moved into it with his family and opened up the farm on which he resided until 1862. In 1862 he sold his farm and moved to Champaign County, Ill., to which county several of his children had preceded him. Here he bought a farm near the village of Sadorus on which he resided until the time of his death, in 1864. His body lies buried in Mount Hope Cemetery at Urbana, and Mary, his second wife, lies beside him. His first wife is buried in the cemetery at Brandon, Knox County, Ohio, and a marble monument marks her tomb.

Much that is praiseworthy might be written about the life and labors of Isaac Coler but we have not the space here. It may be truthfully said, however, that he is remembered as having been a man of strictly temperate habits, a Methodist in religion, in politics a Democrat of the old Jefferson type, a kind neighbor and a devoted son, husband and father. He died universally respected and beloved by all who knew him.

COLONEL WILLIAM NICHOLAS COLER.

Colonel William Nicholas Coler, a member of the Loyal Legion, and pensioner of the Mexican war, was educated in the common schools and Stone's Mount Vernon Male Academy. On his return from the war he engaged in teaching and the study of law, was admitted to the bar in Illinois in 1852, and opened an office at Urbana, Ill. He organized the Twenty-fifth Regiment of Illinois Volunteer Infantry, was elected colonel and served in the Civil War over a year, then resigned and opened a law office in Champaign, Ill.

In 1870 he organized the well-known banking house of W. N. Coler & Co., and in 1872 moved to Brooklyn with his family. In 1889 he retired from active business and has since that time traveled around the world and visited nearly all civilized countries, as well as all of the States and Territories of the United States. He has always been temperate in his habits and still enjoys perfect health.

BIRD SIM COLER.

Bird Sim Coler was educated in Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and Andover College. He commenced business in the banking firm of W. N. Coler & Co. at an early age and showed marked ability from the beginning. He became the head of the firm on the retirement of his brother. He was elected comptroller of the city of New York in 1897 by a plurality of over 106,000 votes. He has shown himself to be an able, upright officer and has acquired great popularity.

FRANCIS WALTER COLER.

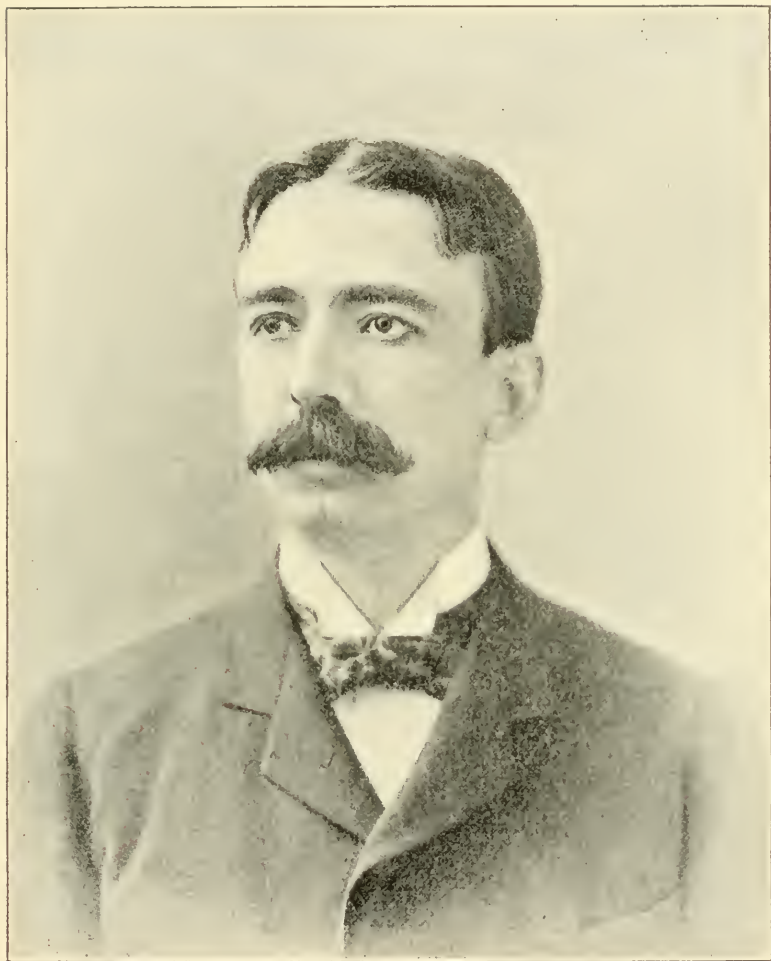

Francis Walter Coler, after acquiring the endowments of an English education in Brooklyn and at Prof. Jones' School, Bridgeport, Conn., finished his education at the University of Halle, Germany, and the Sorbonne, Paris. On his return from abroad he attended law lectures in Chicago, was admitted to the bar and commenced practice, but his services being required, he quit law and became an active member of the firm of W. N. Coler & Co.

At the age of 10 she was sent to Saint Theresa's Academy, Kansas City, Mo., where she graduated before her 17th birthday with the highest honors of the school. The summer following her graduation her uncle, Colonel W. N. Coler, took her abroad, where they traveled until September, when she entered the Stern Conservatory of Music at Berlin, Germany, where she stayed two years, studying violin and piano, when she returned to the United States to take a position as violin and German teacher in the Warrensburg School of Music. After two years' successful work there she resigned to accept a position in the State Normal and Industrial College, of Rock Hill, South Carolina, where she is now spending her second year.

MARY COLER BALL.

Mary Coler Ball was born in Hardy County, Va., near Morefield, Aug. 9, 1807; moved to Ohio with her mother about 1823, married to Timothy Ball at Mount Vernon, Ohio, Jan. 27, 1827. After the death of her husband Mrs. Ball moved to Iowa in 1866, lived there one year and moved to Illinois and died near Sadorus, Ill., Feb. 7, 1874.

MARY COLER BALL.

CYPHRIAN C. BALL.

Rev. Cyphrian C. Ball was born Nov. 21, 1830; he died in Fredericktown, Ohio, July 23, 1897. His early life was passed on a farm where he took every advantage of such school privileges as the country afforded. At an early age he formed a taste for the best reading. He was converted and united with the church at the age of 17. In 1857 he was licensed to exhort, and in 1859 was granted a local preacher's license. He was ordained local deacon by Bishop Ames Sept. 4, 1864, and ordained elder by Bishop Simpson Sept. 23, 1877.

As a preacher he was clear, logical and forceful. The style of his preaching was for the most part textual and exhortative, occasionally topical, few men equal him in the ability to represent sin as the "abominable thing which God hates," and at the same time, hold up Christ as the sinner's friend and Savior. During his ministry he received into membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church three thousand souls.

On March 26, 1864, he united in marriage with Miss Ruth Ellen Dunn, who was greatly afflicted for twenty-five years. In his care for her through all these years, which was as tender and gentle as a mother's, his heart was shown. She died Aug. 13, 1892.

On Sept. 24, 1894, he was married to Miss Jennie Moffit, daughter of Rev. A. S. Moffit. She entered earnestly upon the work of a Methodist preacher's wife, aiding him by her council and prayers while in active work, and in tenderness and love ministering to him in his last illness.
